Five Steps to Self-Regulation

Step 1:
I Am
Child is triggered into a state of upset. Emotions biochemically overtake them and they become them. “I am angry.”

Step 2:
I Calm
Children need assistance in turning off the stress response in their bodies and calming down their physiology. Begin to move from “I am angry” to “I feel angry.”

Step 3:
I Feel
Children need assistance in naming and taming the feelings that have overwhelmed them. Once you can name a feeling and become conscious of it, you are automatically better able to manage it.

Step 4:
I Choose
Children need assistance in choosing strategies that will help them move from the lower centers of their brain to the higher centers of their brain in order to get back to classroom activities/work.

Step 5:
I Solve
Something triggered the child into a state of upset. Whatever happened needs some type of solution.

The Safe Place™

The Safe Place is a self-regulating center where children practice changing their internal state from upset to calm in order to maximize their learning potential. It consist of the following:

- Comfortable physical structure to sit on (beanbag, soft pillows)
- Visual display of calming icons: S.T.A.R., Drain, Pretzel or Balloon. Visit ConsciousDiscipline.com to purchase Safe Place Mat or download the printable poster version.
- Feeling Buddies: To identify feelings and practice self-regulation.
- I Choose Self-Control Board: To support children in regulating and changing their emotions.
Implementation Plan: The Safe Place™

I will place my Safe Place in this area of the classroom:

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________

It will look like this:

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________

List of materials may include:

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________________
